

Notice to Industry
19 June 2013

42/2013

Changes to DAFF website URL's

Who does this notice affect?

All Clients who access Biosecurity related pages on the DAFF Website.

What has changed?

As part of the ongoing retirement of the Australian Quarantine and Inspection Service (AQIS) brand, DAFF will be updating all of its current website URL'S to remove all AQIS references.

For example: the current web URL for the General Importing Information page on the DAFF website is currently:

<http://www.daff.gov.au/aqis/import/general-info>

As part of the rebranding from AQIS to DAFF (effective 30 June 2013), the above URL will be amended to:

<http://www.daff.gov.au/biosecurity/import/general-info>

If you are a regular DAFF Website user who accesses website pages using your favourites/bookmarks, we recommend that you commence updating these URL'S to reflect the rebranding to ensure your regularly used pages can still be accessed as required after 30 June 2013.
